The pilot and the observer, French, were captured and the aeroplane taken.

J. WESLEY THOMPSON STILL WAITING; THIS TIME FOR COMMISSION

"Watchful waiting is a policy which appears to be sticking pretty tight to me these days," declared Judge J. Wesley Thompson this morning. Thompson was appointed Hawaii circuit judge nearly a month ago and his commission thus far has failed to reach him at Honolulu.

"No, it didn't come on yesterday's mail," he says. "But I hope that it comes quickly so that I may get over to Kailua and get things started there."

Judge Thompson is sure that his commission will arrive in the Maunaloa next Friday. In case it does he will qualify at once and then leave for the Big Island on the first steamer.

"HERO OF MARSHES" CALLED ON TO CHECK FURIOUS RUSS DRIVE

Gen. von Hindenburg, hero of the Mazurian marsh battles of the early part of the war, and in charge of the German armies on the northern part of the eastern line, has been called on to stop the Russian drive on the Pinsk front.

WAR MAY BOOM AMERICAN TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA

Head of Manufacturers' Association, On Way From U. S., Tells of Feeling

"Australia will give her last man and spend her last shilling if need be to aid England and her allies to break German militarism and never give in until it is broken, and no matter what the cost we are determined to fight until that end is accomplished."

Thus was the sentiment of Australia described today by W. W. Forwood of Adelaide, member of the Australian war council and president of the Associated Chamber of Manufacturers of Australia, who was here on the Makura today on his way home after an extended tour of the United States gathering data on munition factories for the Australian government.

"It is costing Australia $5,000,000 a week to keep up her end of the war," continued Forwood. "With a total population of 5,000,000 she has already sent 350,000 men to the front and is prepared to make it 500,000 if she is called upon. The one idea that imbues the Commonwealth is to make a thorough job of the war. Men are leaving their work and traveling hundreds of miles for an opportunity to enlist. My sons volunteered at the beginning. One of them, a lieutenant, is somewhere in France and the other is in Egypt."

"I want to say that now and in the future there is room for much expansion of trade between the United States and Australia, both ways. I am convinced that the present generation, at least in my country, will refuse to resume commercial relations with Germany after the war. We feel that the money we have been paying to Germany all these years has been used to prepare her army and navy for the killing of our own men. Therefore we feel that the opportunity is ripe for the development of trade with America."

"My mission to the United States has been to inquire into the making of munitions. Australia has been making some high explosives and shrapnel, but the materials were not just right. Through the assistance of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice I was able to learn much that will help Australia."

MAN WHO WOULD KILL HIMSELF IS POLICE PROBLEM

"I'll do a good job next time," the police report J. A. McIntosh as declaring. He has been in jail since he tried to shoot himself at the T. Keven home on Beretania street, near Nonpareil lane, Monday noon. He is being held for investigation.

"We don't know just exactly what to do with the man," said Deputy Sheriff Asch today, "and we don't know whether he means by his threat that he will kill his wife or himself or both if we turn him loose. We believe he is desperate enough to warrant keeping him in custody for a while."

Mrs. McIntosh has recently filed action of divorce proceedings and it is said the would-be suicide went to her Monday in an effort to induce her

Germans Claim Sea-Fight Say British Retired From North Sea

Germany's admiralty and government have officially taken up the statements that Great Britain won the North Sea battle of May 31-June 1. In an official cablegram received today the German government officially sets forth the following declaration of a German victory:

"The German admiralty reports, under date of June 7, that English official press telegrams and others, as well as the conference of official English representatives in neutral countries are making a systematic attempt to deny the size of the British defeat in the sea battle on May 31, and make believe that the sea battle was successful for British arms."

"Thus for instance it is stated that the German fleet abandoned and the British held the field."

"To this it is stated:

"The English main body, during battle at evening on May 31, was forced by repeated effective attacks of German torpedo boats to turn away and thereafter came no more in sight of the German forces."

"In spite of superior speed and approach of English battleship squadron of 12 ships coming from the southern North Sea, the English main body neither attempted to get again into touch with our forces in order to continue battle nor to join sailing squadron in order to annihilate the German fleet."

"Further English report is that the English fleet tried in vain to overtake the fleeing German fleet in order to defeat her before reaching her home point, D'Appul. This, however, is contradicted by what is stated in the official English declaration that Admiral Jellicoe already on June 1 had arrived with his large fleet at the point D'Appul in Scapaflow, Orkney Islands, which is more than 200 miles distant from the place of engagement. Numerous German torpedo boats were sent after the battle northward for a night attack beyond the place of the day battle in order to search carefully for the English main body, but found nothing."

FLAG DAY GIVEN FITTING HONORS BY BOY SCOUTS

Notable in the Flag Day exercises marking June 14 are those arranged by the Boy Scouts for tonight.

The program will begin promptly at 7:30 following the troop reports. John Guild, president of the Boy Scouts of Honolulu, will preside.

The Hawaiian band will furnish the music for the event.

The program is as follows:

The students of McKinley high school left their examinations for 10 minutes this morning to pay tribute to the flag. Gathered in the assembly hall they listened to a brief but inspiring address by Fred Turill of the George W. De Long Post, G. A. R. Turill recited a short history of the Stars and Stripes and explained why this day has been set aside for the payment of tribute to the standard and the purposes it served.

Owing to final examinations there were no school services in the public schools today, but each room spent a few minutes in the morning either in a salute to the standard or singing patriotic songs.

AD CLUB GETS FLAG TO MARK PATRIOTIC DAY

Chaplain Scott, 2nd Infantry, Pays Eloquent Tribute to Colors

OLD GLORY.
By Mary Dillingham Frear.
(Read at today's Ad Club Luncheon.)
Unfurl anew, O mighty flag, thy folds,
Old Glory!
Unrent, unstained,
O'er noble heights attained;
Wave on, till old and hoary,
Our far, far off-descendants hail thee.
Honored more than life,
Emblem of lawful liberty,
Of freedom born of strife,
But born of justice and love of men,
Oh, then, to earth's remotest ken,
Blest be thy story!
And be thou still—Old Glory!

Flag Day was celebrated at the Ad Club luncheon today at the Alexander Young hotel with a presentation of a beautiful silk American flag to the club, a patriotic address by Chaplain William R. Scott of the 2nd Infantry and a chorus of patriotic songs.

In his address, on "The American Flag," Chaplain Scott brought out the point that flags and religion had always been associated, and that the flag stands for something in every nation since the beginning of time. He remarked that the American flag was older than that of England, France, Spain and Germany.

"If you want to bring peace to Hawaii do not vote for statehood," said Chaplain Scott. "Every war has occurred during a period when the flag had an odd number of stars. In the revolutionary period 13; in 1812, 15; in 1848, 20; in 1861, 35; in 1898, 48."

President Farrington in presenting the flag to the club said: "The American flag is not the property of one organization. It is the property of every person in the nation and should be recognized as such. It is the emblem that we have in our hearts and in our work."

Tom Sharp declared that the flag is something that means much to every citizen of the nation. He gave a brief history of the American flag. He read a poem from the pen of Mrs. Mary Dillingham Frear, "Old Glory."

GOVERNOR WILL NOT SEND BACK FRANCHISE YET

That it will be some time yet before the Rapid Transit franchise has been digested sufficiently by him to refer back to the public utilities commission is the statement made today by Governor Pinkham.

The governor refuses to state whether he will offer any objections or criticisms, but it is reported that there are at least three changes which he will propose.

"Maybe there will be and maybe there won't," he said this morning, when asked as to this specific number. "I'm not ready at the present time to give out anything on the subject."

Chairman Forbes of the utilities commission is of the opinion that the governor will have his study finished in a short time and that the draft will then be taken up.

Others are of the opinion that the governor will wait until after the case now pending in the supreme court between the Rapid Transit Company and the territory is settled before sending back the paper.

KILAUEA GREAT, GUIDANCE SHOULD BE BETTER-KLAW

Noted Theatrical Magnate in Letter to Star-Bulletin Makes Suggestions

Hawaii has the greatest wonder of the world in the volcano of Kilauea—and an improvement on the guide service will help Hawaii to make still more of its chief tourist asset. In the opinion of Marc Klaw, the noted theatrical magnate, the noted theatrical magnate.

Mr. Klaw was here a few weeks ago and he gave an interview to the Star-Bulletin in which he made some kindly criticism. This was replied to by L. W. de la Norton of the Hawaii Publicity Commission, and now Mr. Klaw writes from New York to the Star-Bulletin enlarging upon his point of view.

His letter says:

New York, May 20, 1916.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: On my return from my vacation trip to Honolulu and the West yesterday I found on my desk a copy of your issue of Thursday, May 4, which some one kindly sent me. It contains an interview with Mr. L. W. de la Norton, answering some of the suggestions (I hope they were not considered as criticisms) which I made to improve the service to tourists visiting Kilauea and the crater of Kilauea.

First I want to convey to Mr. de la Norton my appreciation of the extreme courtesy and politeness which characterized his reply.

I must have expressed myself clumsily if I left the impression that I expected the chauffeurs driving one to the volcano to keep up a chatter of information on the way, diverting them from their main business of driving. My animadversions on that subject referred chiefly to the men in whose care you are given to be driven around Kilauea and not the drive to the volcano. There is surely no danger in that drive around Kilauea and a little information could be imparted or a circular handed to the passenger by

COURT MARTIAL IS ORDERED FOR ARMY CHAPLAIN

Chaplain Jeremiah A. Lenehan, 4th Cavalry, Schofield Barracks, is to be tried by court martial upon charges which are to be forwarded here by mail from the War Department.

Cable advices from Washington to this effect were received at headquarters of the Hawaiian Department today. Nothing is stated in the cable as to what the charges are, save that they cover a period previous to Chaplain Lenehan's coming to Schofield, and officers at headquarters are in the dark as to what the details of the case may be.

Chaplain Lenehan resigned his position at Schofield Barracks several weeks ago, and the resignation had been accepted by President Wilson, to take effect at the end of a leave of absence which was first to be granted him. He was to leave the islands on the July or August transport.

WILSON'S WORK TO SAVE U. S. FROM WAR CAMPAIGN KEYNOTE SOUNDED IN ST. LOUIS TODAY

"WE ENTERED HALL AS DEMOCRATS, LET'S DELIBERATE AS AMERICANS," SAYS M. H. GLYNN, TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN—IN WASHINGTON PRESIDENT HEADS BIG "PREPAREDNESS" PARADE, MARCHING IN STREETS

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
ST. LOUIS, Missouri, June 14.—Nothing but harmony and support for President Wilson as the preserver of peace for the United States have developed in the Democratic national convention which opened today at the St. Louis Coliseum.

With the weather warm but uncertain, and the delegates in a happy mood, the session, which is expected to last for only three days, began at 12:31 today.

Carpenters were still beating a tattoo with their hammers as the delegates entered the great hall, already filled with thousands of eager spectators.

A program of victory or "Wilson and Marshall" is all that the delegates prophesy. They declare that the re-election of their party leaders is sure.

The convention keynote is "Americanism, peace, preparedness and prosperity," and there have arisen no disputes so far concerning the various planks which will embody and expand these ideas.

The various vice-presidential booms, other than that for the re-nomination of Thomas Riley Marshall of Indiana, wilted completely at the word from the president that he wanted Mr. Marshall again. All that had encouraged the other booms were the vague rumors that the president wished some other running mate.

William F. McCombs, chairman of the national committee, opened the convention at 12:31, after bands had played and desultory cheers and applause had been in progress for an hour.

Former Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York, temporary chairman, sounded the keynote of the convention and of the campaign in an eloquent speech.

"We entered the hall as Democrats, let us deliberate as Americans," he declared. "The business of this convention is that of speaking for every racial strain in America a message to the world that will leave no room for doubt as to where America stands."

"We have preserved neutrality for this nation and the men who are true patriots at heart know it and support the government."

Reviewing the president's conduct of foreign affairs he asserted that President Wilson has stood with Washington, Adams and Grant, who "preserved peace with honor."

As an inspiring prelude to the meeting, a monster gathering of suffragists, estimated at 8000, formed the much-heralded "Golden Lane" of 12 blocks long on Locust street to the Coliseum entrance. As the visitors and delegates passed through this lane, the suffragists applauded them. The demonstration was to promote woman's suffrage planks in the Democratic platform.

Wilson On Foot Leads Mammoth "Preparedness" Parade In Capital

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—Led by President Wilson, who marched on foot and with smiles to the cheering spectators, 75,000 men, women and children marched along Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the White House today in a monster demonstration for "preparedness" and also in commemoration of Flag Day.

The president carried a flag. The weather was ideal and the crowds along the streets tremendous. Stores were closed, decorations were lavishly used.

No soldiers or sailors marched in the parade, as both Secretary of War Baker and Secretary of the Navy Daniels agreed that their participation would not be proper in this demonstration by civilians. Both of the secretaries, marched in the parade, heading divisions composed of the employees of their departments.

KAUAI FILIPINO KILLED; MYSTERY

News arrived from Kauai this morning of the murder of a Filipino employer of the Hawaiian Sugar Company, Lorenzo Donoso, a Filipino, under somewhat peculiar circumstances last Saturday night.

He had retired for the night and was awakened by a knock on his door. He arose to answer the summons and upon opening the door a hand holding a dagger was thrust in, driving the sharp instrument deep into his abdomen and quickly withdrawn. The assailant ran away before those aroused by the wounded man's cries could catch a glimpse of him. Although given every possible aid, Donoso died in the hospital about an hour later.

Inquest on the body was withheld in order to give the police a chance to work in the slight clues which are in their possession. A demented Filipino is held under suspicion, though as yet no conclusive proofs are available.
